The House and Senate.

Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress.

BOTH HOUSES IN A WRANGLE.

Almost a Stampede in the House and No Legislation Accomplished—The Tariff Bill Furnishes the Subject for a Senate Debate, But No Action Taken on the Measure—Other Washington Disputes.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—In the house yesterday, when the speaker directed the journal to be read, Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, raised the point of order that there was no quorum present. The speaker counted ninety-one members, and on motion of Mr. McKinley a call of house was ordered. One hundred and sixty-seven members—a quorum—responded to their names, and the journal of Thursday's proceedings was read.

Mr. Bland, of Missouri, had read from the clerk's desk a press dispatch stating that he was absent from the conference meeting on the silver bill on Saturday last, and in explaining his position read a note which he had received from Mr. Conger, chairman of house conferees, stating that there would not be a meeting of conference on Saturday.

Mr. Dorsey, of Nebraska, moved to suspend the rules to pass a concurrent resolution requesting the president to return to the house the bill extending the time of payment to purchasers of land of the Omaha tribe of Indians in Nebraska.

A point of order was made by Mr. Breckinridge that the house had no power under the constitution to recall a bill which had passed and been sent to the president.

Mr. Rogers said that he understood that the fear was that the president would veto the bill unless it were changed in a certain particular.

The speaker said such action as was proposed had been taken by both houses many times, and the constitutional question was for the house to decide. He therefore overruled the point of order.

Mr. Outhwaite demanded a second, and the Democrats refusing to vote, the house was left without a quorum.

Mr. Dorsey thereupon withdrew his motion.

A number of requests for leave having been presented, Mr. Dunnell, of Minnesota, said if there was to be a general stampede the house should know it.

The house went into committee of the whole. Mr. Peters, of Kansas, in the chair, for the consideration of the senate bill to forfeit certain lands heretofore granted for the purpose of aiding in the construction of railroads, with a house substitute therefor.

Mr. Payson, of Illinois, explained that the bill proposed to forfeit all lands where the railroads have not been completed at this time.

Mr. Oates, of Alabama, spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Stone, of Missouri, held that forfeiture should be made of all lands not earned at the time fixed in the granting act. He said he would offer as a substitute for the pending bill a proposition introduced by him early in the session to this end. The pending legislation, he said, was demanded by the Northern Pacific railroad, whose zealous champion on the floor of the house for many years had been Thomas B. Reed. No influence had been more potent in the organization of the house than that of the Northern Pacific railroad. He recognized the fact that this bill, infamously as it was, would go on the statute books. The pins had been set for it.

Mr. Lacey, of Iowa, favored the pending bill and thought Mr. Stone's proposition should be considered separately.

Pending further debate the committee rose, and the house at 5 o'clock adjourned.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—In the senate yesterday, the conference report on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill was agreed to.

Mr. Morrill moved that the tariff bill be considered. He said that after the bill was taken up, it could be laid aside informally until the two shipping bills were disposed of.

In reply to an inquiry by Mr. Harris the presiding officer stated that the two shipping bills would come up as the "unfinished business" at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Harris then suggested to Mr. Morrill not to make his motion until after 2 o'clock.

Mr. Morrill said he preferred to make it at the present time.

Mr. Frye said he had given notice that he would call up the river and harbor bill, but he was not personally concerned about its consideration. He would certainly, however, feel obliged to ask for its consideration before the tariff bill could be completed. He would not now antagonize the tariff bill with the river and harbor bill, but if the tariff bill was going to consume two or three weeks, he would not consent to yield that length of time.

The vote was taken on Mr. Morris's motion, and the result was—yeas 16, nays 24—no quorum voting. Then there was a call of the roll, to which forty-nine senators responded. The vote was again taken, and the senate refused to take up the tariff bill—yeas 20, nays 23.

Senate bill to establish a United States land court and to provide for the settlement of private land claims in the territories of New Mexico, Wyoming, Arizona and Utah, and in the states Nevada and Colorado was taken up and discussed until 2 o'clock, when it was laid aside without action and the consideration of the two shipping bills, reported by Mr. Frye from the committee on commerce was resumed.

Mr. Reagan said that he agreed most heartily with the purpose of the building up again the mercantile marine of the United States, but that he did not agree with the policy of the pending bills. The United States could not expect to build up commerce when the policy of its revenue legislation was destroying the existence of international commerce.

At the close of Mr. Reagan's remarks the election bill was received from the house and was, on motion of Mr. Frye, ordered to lie on the table until the return to Washington of chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, Mr. Hoar.

Mr. Morgan addressed the senate on the shipping bills. He suggested to Mr. Frye to let the experiment be tried of permitting American citizens to buy ships abroad and to sail them under an American register. All hostile commercial legislation had long since been abandoned by all nations except by the United States in that one instance of forbidding the use of vessels under the American flag that are not built in the United States.

Mr. Morgan yielded the floor temporarily and Mr. Sherman presented the conference report on the silver bill. After it was read in full he gave notice that he would call it up for action Tuesday.

Mr. Frye made some additional remarks in favor of the bills and said he hoped to get votes on both of them tomorrow.

After a brief secret session the senate, at 5:40, adjourned.

Quite a Reduction.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The conference report on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill agreed to by the senate reduces the appropriation voted by the senate from $1,723,455 to 1,710,815. The amount appropriated by the bill as it passed the house was $1,439,925.

The conference struck out a number of increases in consular salaries made in the senate. The amendments to carry into effect the recommendations of the Pan-American conference, which were added by the senate, were agreed to by the house conferees, with unimportant amendments. One of those amendments makes the title of the proposed railway "The Continental," instead of the Intercontinental" railway.

Compromise on the Silver Question.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The Republican conferees on the silver bill held a meeting at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and, after a brief discussion, agreed on a basis of compromise on the silver question. It includes the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces silver monthly, the issue of silver certificates to be legal tender and to be redeemable in lawful money only. A call was issued immediately for a meeting of all the conferees, and Mr. Sherman began the preparation of the conference report.

Relief for Settlers.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The house committee on public lands has ordered a favorable report on a bill for the relief of the settlers on the lands of the White River Ute Indians.

Out But Not Free.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., July 8.—Miss Nancy Lightcap, who was arrested a month ago for burning two private houses of Elmore Marsh, and was sent up for two years, escaped from the third story of the woman's reformatory at Indianapolis Sunday night. She tied her bed clothing together and let herself down. She was arrested here promptly the next morning after a hard struggle.

Negro Outlaw Captured.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 8.—A special to The Times-Union from Live Oak, says: A notorious negro outlaw, supposed to be Bob Brewer, the Jessup murderer, who also shot a deputy sheriff at Boardman, last week, was captured in this county Sunday night by Sheriff Patsdamer and Deputy Tedder. He is now in the Suwanee county jail.

Death of the Original "Topsy."

BALTIMORE, July 8.—Thomas L. Moxley, an old actor died yesterday. He was celebrated as a female impersonator with the old Nightingale minstrels, under the name of Master Floyd, and was the original "Topsy" in Uncle Tom's Cabin. Mr. Moxley was afterward co-manager with George Kunkel, of the Marshall theater, Richmond, Va.

Injured in a Runaway.

HURON, Mich., July 8.—Henry Henderson Sunday borrowed his employer's team to take his family to a picnic. The team took fright and ran away, throwing the occupants out of the vehicle, injuring Mr. Henderson seriously. Mrs. Henderson is so badly hurt that she will die. A daughter and son were instantly killed, and another son had his left arm torn off.

Went by the Razor Route.

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 8.—The body of Ebenezer Alsdorf, aged 50 years, was found in a rye field at Shawangunk Sunday. He had been out of his mind for some time and committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He leaves a wife and family.

Original Package in Kentucky.

FRANKLIN, Ky., July 8.—An original package house has been opened up in this city. This has been a prohibition county for four years. There is much excitement but no effort is made to arrest the parties.

Queer Combination Fire.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 8.—Fire in the Santa Fe coal yards at Argentine, Kan., yesterday, destroyed 300 tons of coal and two ice houses containing several hundred tons of ice. Loss, $15,000; fully insured.

Flint Glassworkers.

A Warlike Report

Sensational Dispatches Sent Out from Washington.

DISASTROUS BLAZE.

Furniture Factory and Stove Works at Evansville Consumed.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 8.—The most disastrous fire that has visited the city since 1857 occurred yesterday afternoon, when the mammoth establishment of the Armstrong Furniture company was destroyed by fire, and also the stove works of the Evansville stove works.

The fire caught in the varnish-room, in the sixth story, and gained such headway that the fire department could do nothing but attempt to save adjoining buildings. The heat was so intense that several firemen were prostrated and had to be sent home. The fire ate its way down through fine asbestos lined floors and licked up everything combustible.

The walls all fell with a crash that shook the earth. Several hundred feet of hose were burned. Fortunately the firemen, by superhuman efforts, succeeded in saving several million feet of lumber in the rear of the mill.

The loss is $150,000, on which is an insurance of $100,000 in eastern mutual companies. About 300 men are thrown out of employment. The stove foundry loss is $30,000, on which there is an insurance of $12,000.

NOT WEATHER IN CHICAGO.

Mercury Reaches One Hundred Degrees.

CHICAGO, July 8.—According to the predictions of the local signal service officials and, in view of all the surrounding conditions, Chicago and the northwest are in for another hot spell of weather which is likely to surpass the one of a few days ago, not only in extent, but in duration and intensity. At various points west yesterday the mercury reached 100. Valentine, Neb., shows the maxim in 102 for two days.

A hot, dry wind from the prairies, which stretch away almost without interruption to the southwest for hundreds of miles, has been blowing since morning. It was from this direction that the wind came on the night of Oct. 8, 1871, when a fire was started in a cow stable on De Koven street, which destroyed $200,000,000 worth of property and hundreds of lives.

OBJECT OF CHARITY.

The Mother of Lieut. William B. Cushing in Destitute Circumstances.

NEW YORK, July 8.—A Herald special from Boston says the venerable mother of Lieut. William B. Cushing, who in 1864, with a crew of thirteen men, blew up the rebel ram Albemarle on a North Carolina river, is now an object of charity in Boston. She is very poor and owes for her board since November last. Ali of her eleven children are dead. She served four years during the war as a nurse, and was wounded twice on the field of battle.

She claims to own property in Monterey county, Cal., and also lands in Florida, but through some trouble which she does not understand, she derives no benefit from the property. Her name is now Susan P. C. Garrison, she having married William Lloyd Garrison after the death of her first husband.

Richest Gold Mine in the World.

TIN CUP, Col., July 8.—The most wonderful discovery of gold ever reported comes from six miles from here on Cross mountain. There is a ten-foot vein, the lower six feet of iron manganese and the upper four bearing quartz of free gold. The lowest assay from this rock is $440 per ton and there are specimens which return $20,000 in gold to the ton. The value of the mine is estimated at from $500,000 to $187,000,000. The excitement is intense and thousands of miners are rushing into the camp.

Will Not Die Next Week.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 8.—Warden Durbin has been served with notice of appeal which serves as an order to stay proceedings in the case of Frank Fish, the Canandaigua murderer, who is under sentence of death by electricity, and the time for whose execution was originally fixed for the week commencing July 17. The motion for a new trial, which was denied by the supreme court, will again come up, and the proceedings will not be in the form of a test of the constitutionality of the law.

After Sim Coy.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 8.—The county grand jury met yesterday, and were charged by Judge Irwin, who called special attention to the violation of the law at Coy's road house on the Sabbath, saying that charges of disorder and illegal selling of liquor were made by drivers reputable citizens, and it was the duty of the grand jury to investigate the charges and return indictments if they were found to be sustained by the facts. Fifteen witnesses were summoned to testify against Coy.

Two People Burned to Death.

KEENE, N. H., July 8.—A special to The Tribune from Westridge says: While W. E. Wetherbee was at church on Sunday his house took fire by the overturning of an oil stove. The only occupants at the time were a Mrs. Huse and Mr. Wetherbee's youngest child. The flames ignited the child's dress and it was burned to death. In attempting to save the child Mrs. Huse was so severely burned that she died.

EVERY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1890.

If the full Democratic vote is polled the first Monday in August, an old time victory will be won.

By the way, Secretary Blaine hasn't said a word yet denying that he denounced the McKinley bill. There is no "reciprocity" in the bill, and Mr. Blaine is in for reciprocity and a good deal of it. And reciprocity is but another name for "free trade."

THERE were 204 delegates in the late Republican State Convention in Pennsylvania, and not a colored man in the number. And these same Pennsylvania Republicans will rant and rave about the colored brother not being recognized and given his rights in the South.

EX-CONGRESSMAN FARWELL of Iowa, and a Republican at that, doesn't want any of the McKinley bill in his. He declines to run for Governor, because his party's pet measure "contains provisions he would not support or defend for a nomination for any office." Iowa Republicans, or a big part of them, are among the most ardent tariff reformers in the land.

HART COUNTY, says the News, will compare favorably with any county in the State as regards finances. It is entirely out of debt, its paupers cost less than $1,000 per year. And a poll tax of $1.25 and 10 per cent ad valorem will probably leave a surplus in the treasury at the close of the next fiscal year. This state of affairs was brought about under Democratic rule.

DRURY J. BURCHETT was defeated for Congress, and got the United States Marshalship. John G. Barrett was nominated for State Treasurer a year or so ago, but declined for fear he would be elected. He now gets the Louisville postoffice plum. Colonel W. O. Bradley was defeated for Governor and was tendered a Consulship. And so the thing goes with Kentucky Republicans. Wonder what office Judge Tinsley will be given when Woodford W. Longmooor gets through with him in August.

THE McKinley bill cuts off the sale by Western and Northern farmers of $32,000,000 worth of farm products annually to Canada. It would be difficult for farmers to see how they are benefited by that. It is done in pursuance of the barbarous and unenlightened idea pervading the McKinley bill that commerce is a public evil and should be suppressed.

Ninety-nine persons out of every hundred would declare the above denunciation of the McKinley bill was uttered by some Democrat. But it was not. It is taken from the Gate City, a Republican paper published at Keokuk, Iowa. Harrison, Reed, Quay and McKinley will likely hear something "drap" in Iowa next November.

The Pension Office Scandal.

The National Democrat, published at Washington City, is very plain in its talk about the disgraceful doings in the Pension Office. It says:

"C. Perez Lincoln, Second Deputy Commissioner, has been at great trouble to explain that Raum has denied the charges made against him. This is not true; Raum has made no denial. We charge that he changed the action of the office in certain cases to accommodate Geo. E. Lemon, after Lemon had endorsed his notes to the amount of $25,000. We can prove this by a cashier, a stockholder in one of the banks, and by a leading attorney in this city. We charge that stock was sold to Pension Office employes in a fraudulent refrigerating process; that some who took stock were promoted. This we can prove by the books of the Universal Refrigerating Company and by Bradley Tanner (no relation to the Corporal), who is Raum's private secretary, and is the Secretary of the refrigerating company, and six other clerks. We charge that Bradley Tanner was promoted to Raum after he took stock in the company, also that he—Tanner—made two trips to Richmond and one to Norfolk in the interest of said company. This was done on the Government's time and at its expense. Let the Committee on Rules order a committee of investigation with authority to call for persons and papers and we will agree to prove more than we have alleged.

We have the original letters in John Raum's hand writing, and know we can make good every allegation made. If the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, known as 'Holy John No. 2,' would like to ascertain the character of the parties Raum permits to run the Pension Office, he should visit the pool rooms on Seventh street where the boys are working the races, or investigate Green B., Jr."

Reed's Republican House doesn't seem in any hurry to investigate Mr. Raum. The charges against him certainly demand investigation.

Railway News.

Passenger men say that they never knew a heated spell to create such a boom in business eastward and northward as did the last. It has been very difficult the last three weeks to secure sleeping-car accommodations, unless ordered some days in advance, over either of the lines leading to the cooler resorts.

The roads sold under foreclosure during the six months ending June 30, according to the Railroad Age, were twenty-one in number, with an aggregate mileage of 1,930, a total funded debt of $35,930,000 and a capital stock to the amount of $56,147,000. This is the worst showing that has been made in the corresponding period of several years. The number of roads for which receivers were appointed during the six months was nine, with a total mileage of 1,380, a total funded debt of $24,616,000 and an aggregate capital stock of $22,576,000.

In testing a new locomotive, the great machine is hoisted by heavy chains so that the wheels just clear the tracks on the construction floor. Steam is raised, and an engineer springs upon the foot-board and sets the big drivers spinning around in empty air at about three hundred revolutions per minute, which would send the "old girl" over the rails at about a mile a minute, were she on the track. A wine-glass, filled to the brim with water, is then placed upon the cow-catcher, and the valves and counterbalance weights are delicately adjusted until a minimum amount of liquid is spilled by the vibrations of the suspended giant, says an exchange.

For the Farmer and Stockman. Sainfoin, winner of the rich Derby, and who had previously been sold for nearly $40,000, cost only 35 guineas as a yearling—Exchange.

James Chandler, of Lawrence Creek, raised sixteen lambs from 8 ewes this season, and sold them at 5 cents. They averaged 108 pounds.

Flaugher & Stivers' fine two-year-old mare Namaesake, by Artillery, died a few days since at Ripley. She was valued at $2,000, and was entered in the stake races at the coming Maysville fair.

Our neighbor, Charles Wilson, of Tilton, raised fourteen lambs from eleven ewes. They were sold and weighed up June 7th, and amounted to $73.70. Who can beat it?—Flemington Times-Democrat.

Mr. James Chandler. Read elsewhere.

During the first five months of 1890 Chicago received over 5,190,000 head of all kinds of live stock, divided as follows: Cattle, 1,321,521; calves, 38,492; hogs, 2,911,256; sheep, 875,003; horses, 46,100.

It is expected that over 150,000 lambs will be marketed at the Covington yards this season. Kentucky lambs have a tenderness and delicacy that render them superior to any other meat for invalids and people of difficult digestion, and they command a decided preference among the epicures of the East.

Struck By a Tornado.

Fargo, North Dakota, Visited By a Cyclone.

DEATH OF AN ENTIRE FAMILY.

A Mother and Seven Children Crushed to Death in One of the Demolished Buildings—A Vast Amount of Property Destroyed.

FARGO, N. Dak., July 8.—This city was visited by a cyclone early yesterday morning which carried death and destruction in its wake. About midnight a strong wind prevailed, but no attention was paid to it until 2:30, when in a few minutes the citizens realized that a terrific tornado had veered down upon the city by the Red river and left a birthmark that will be remembered in years to come.

The storm demolished the Manitoba and Milwaukee freight houses, threw down the electric light towers, destroyed the fronts of the Davis block, the opera house block, the Continental block, the Garfield block, the Webster block, unroofed the Northern Pacific freight depot; also The Republican office, and the Chapin hardware store. The court house tower is badly twisted and deposited on the sidewalk on Tenth street. The Plymouth Congregational church is destroyed, the Luger Furniture company's ware house is damaged, numerous bricks from the Argus brick block lie on the ground; the Deering ware house is damaged to some extent, as also is Alfsted's hardware store and Vachen's restaurant, and the rear battlement on the bank of North Dakota lies on the ground in ruins. The Keeney block and Exchange hotel suffered badly. Dozens of smaller buildings and rods of sidewalk are demolished.

The saddest of all is the death of the entire family consisting of the mother and seven children of the late Capt. McCarthy, which occurred at their residence at the corner of Ninth and Fifth streets. The family had taken refuge in the cellar, and in some manner were caught in the timbers of the falling building and crushed to death.

Train No. 1, the Northern Pacific passenger, was caught just as it was departing from Fargo and was toppled over into a ditch. No one was killed although the following were injured:

George E. Manning, of Past Falls, Idaho, knee hurt and badly shaken up.

J. F. Rountree, of Pingree, badly bruised and leg hurt.

Miss McCabe, sister of Superintendent McCabe, ankle bruised.

C. R. Helm, of Ellensburg, Wash., knee hurt and bruised.

Victor Montgomery, of Chicago, scalp wounds; taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Nordstrom, en route from Finland to Seattle to join her husband; badly cut in several places and tendon severed and wrist cut.

John Richie, baggagemaster, cut in the head.

Albert Lee, express messenger, body bruised.

Mrs. C. R. Mann, of Milwaukee, arm bruised and shoulder sprained.

Addison Augur, of Palouse City, Washington, face cut.

G. A. Mann, of St. Louis, temple bruised.

Mrs. C. R. Griffith, of Miles City, Mont., badly bruised.

Ben Sportsman, porter of Vice President Purdy's car, spine injured and head hurt seriously.

Warren P. Purdy, vice president of the Rock Island railway, and family, accompanied by Col. R. S. Thompson and wife, were in Mr. Purdy's private car, but none were seriously injured.

The train consisted of three baggage cars and nine coaches, also Superintendent McCabe's special car containing a party of Chicago and Northwestern officials accompanying Mr. McCabe. The passengers in the sleepers succeeded in dressing and saving their valuables although it was difficult in the dark.

A wrecking train immediately went to work and after several hours' work trains were again able to run.

The storm extended over northern Minnesota and was slightly felt at Detroit, Minn., where it demolished the plate glass front of The Record office and overturned a few small buildings and one house was struck by lightning and burned. No one was hurt in this city.

DAMAGE DONE AT MOOREHEAD.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 8.—A special to The Herald from Moorehead, Minn., says: The storm which broke over this city at 2:15 yesterday morning, was never equalled in this part of Minnesota. Fully $25,000 damage to property was done in this city, besides a number of people being injured. So far as reported there is no loss of life in this city.

The most serious damage to property was the blowing down of the foundry, also the round house belonging to the Great Northern railway. A part of the roof and several chimneys were blown from the state normal school, also from the high school. Considerable damage was done the Grand Pacific, J. Cook and Central hotels.

A large number of buildings in the country near town were blown down and considerable damage done to grain.

The grain elevator at Tenny, six miles east of here is blown down and lies across the Northern Pacific railway track.

IN THE LAKE SUPERIOR DISTRICT.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 8.—A Tribune special from Ashland, Wis., says: A violent wind storm, amounting in places almost to a cyclone, and accompanied by an extraordinary electrical display, passed over the Lake Superior district early yesterday morning. At Houghton outbuildings, trees, fences, etc., were demolished. At Lake Linden lightning struck the residence of Jenny Vignaux, destroying the house and seriously injuring two members of the family.

A THREAT FROM CHINA.

UNLESS OUR LAWS ARE REPEALED SHE WILL EXCLUDE OUR CITIZENS.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The Chinese minister to the United States, Spain and Peru, has just arrived in this city from Havre. In an interview he said:

"Unless the United States government repeals the law which now excludes my countrymen from this country, we shall treat Americans to a dose of their own medicine. I mean that we shall exclude citizens of the United States from the Chinese empire." We hope we shall not be pushed to any measures of retaliation. The Chinese foreign office has sent several demands to Mr. Blaine to repeal the exclusion law. We have received no reply from him. Of course, congress alone can set right the present outrage, but the state department is the proper channel of negotiation.

"Our treaties with the United States have been regarded as sacred trusts and we have lived up to the very letter of them. Now, without the slightest warning or excuse, the United States cruelly breaks its solemn agreement and builds up a barrier against our citizens. After this exclusion law was passed in defiance of all treaties, Secretary Bayard and the former minister from China conferred and the result was a proposed new treaty with China which contained the exclusion law. When this treaty was submitted to the emperor and his council, it was instantly repudiated. The indignation against the minister was such that his house was burned and all his property within reach was destroyed."
